

UKIP battle bus hits the road in Forest

THE UKIP battle bus was out and about as an election candidate took his campaign out on the road.

New Forest West candidate Paul Bailey and supporters took a ride around villages and towns in the ward ahead of the election.

Starting off in New Milton, they headed to Lymington, Bransgore, Burley, Ringwood and Fordingbridge before returning to New Milton.

Mr Bailey said: "If the mountain won't come to Mohammed, Mohammed will go to the mountain. It's the old-fashioned way of getting out on the road and meeting as many people as possible, engaging them in debate and hopefully getting people to look more into voting for UKIP."

Mr Bailey, who runs a printer manufacturing business, said: "Until this point I've been a career businessman, not a career politician, and I've had a lifetime of solving problems and I think that business acumen can be applied to politics and trying to solve problems the public face."
